Scholarships are awarded to applicants who demonstrate a commitment to the belief that a lawyer's primary responsibility is to serve the broader public interest; and have demonstrated a proven commitment to public service through academic, vocational, and public service activities and focus.

About PILO

The Public Interest Law Organization ("PILO") was formed to increase awareness of public interest law issues. PILO provides a forum for public interest lawyers, professors, and students to speak at the College of Law. These speakers supplement the legal curriculum by introducing students to a wide variety of non-traditional legal opportunities in law firms, non-profit organizations, and private and governmental agencies. PILO raises funds for and administers the Lionel Frankel Public Interest Fellowship.

About Lionel Frankel

Lionel Frankel, a professor emeritus at the College of Law who died in 2002, lived his commitment to law as public service. In addition to prolific teaching, writing, and speaking, he devoted time to many professional organizations and served on the boards of Salt Lake Legal Defender Association, Utah Legal Center for the Handicapped, and the ACLU. He also founded and supported the Innocence Project
